

Allison Queen

CUSTOMER SERVICE

📍 321 Employment Avenue Sydney, Australia ✉ Allisonqueen@gmail.com ☎ +1 234-567-8900

March 10, 2026

Healthcare Inc.

Role: Customer Service Representative

Dear Jessica Smith,

I'm interested in applying for the Customer Service Representative role at Healthcare Inc. As a former barista at a large coffee shop, I made sure customers felt consistently cared for, turning visitors into regulars. Because of my customer service skills and friendly attitude, I was promoted within six months.

In my current position, I've become an expert in various aspects of customer service, like using clear communication, being attentive to detail, and having a problem-solving mindset. In the job description, you mentioned that you're looking for a candidate who learns quickly. While working at my current position, I had to learn a new cash management system, and within a few days, I was training others.

My colleagues (and customers!) would say I'm friendly, patient, and hardworking. I'm always trying to get better at what I do, picking up new things on the job and ensuring customers have a great experience. My passion for delivering a consistently great customer experience encouraged me to apply for this role at Healthcare Inc.

I understand how important it is to boost a company's mission through every customer interaction to create long-lasting loyalty. That's precisely the approach I'm excited to bring to Healthcare Inc., and it's why I'm eager to grow with your team and work as a Customer Service Representative.

I look forward to discussing my experience with you. Please don't hesitate to reach out if you need additional information.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Allison Queen