Dear Hiring Manager,

As a recent business graduate and an avid follower of the tech industry, I am thrilled to apply for the Entry Level Business Analyst position at Microsoft. My fascination with technology began as a child, when I would spend hours tinkering with my parents' computer, and has grown throughout my academic career. Microsoft's commitment to innovation and its impact on people's lives aligns with my passion for technology, making it an ideal place for me to kick-start my career.

During my time at university, I led a team of five students in a semester-long project to analyze the financial performance of a local business, using data-driven insights to propose strategies for growth. Our recommendations led to a 20% increase in revenue for the business within six months. This experience taught me the importance of understanding the data and its implications, which I believe will be invaluable in my role as a Business Analyst at Microsoft.

In addition, I interned at Resume Worded, where I assisted in streamlining the company's CRM system, ultimately reducing manual data entry by 30% and increasing overall efficiency. This experience not only honed my analytical skills but also allowed me to gain hands-on experience in working with various software tools.

I am particularly excited about the opportunity to contribute to Microsoft's mission of empowering people and organizations to achieve more. I am confident that my analytical abilities, combined with my passion for technology, will enable me to make a significant impact as a Business Analyst at Microsoft.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experiences align with Microsoft's needs and how I can contribute to the continued success of the company.

Sincerely,

Jeannette Ortega
